FROM FRANKFORT

Whittaker Held as One of Gov. Goebel's Murderer.

Several Important Bills Passed This Week—Reward Bill Signed.

Frankfort, Ky., March 8.—Harlan Whittaker, of Butler county, charged with the assassination of Gov. Goebel, was held to answer without bail at his preliminary trial at Frankfort Tuesday. Lee Jones, a Whitley county suspect, was held in $500 bail. Whittaker was represented in court by attorneys, but made no defense, the witnesses of the prosecution not even being cross-examined. The Commonwealth only introduced enough testimony to hold the prisoner, and was careful not to expose any of the clues by which it expects to locate the leaders in the conspiracy.

The Goebel reward Bill was signed by Gov. Beckham yesterday. The house by a strict party vote refused a second reading to the bill to repeal the Goebel election law. The Senate passed a bill making from the four Circuit Judges in Louisville and placing in the hands of Judge Barker the appointment of the Bond Recorder in Louisville. The Bond Chord Railroad Bill was passed in the House yesterday.

Will Not Hear Applicants.

Gov. Beckham will be so busy with legislative matters until the adjournment next Tuesday that he has decided not to give audience to any more applicants for office until after that time. He has decided, for that reason, not to make any appointments until after the adjournment of the legislature, when he will have more time to consider the claims of the candidates.

Pardon For a Boy.

Gov. Beckham to-day pardoned John Hourihan, of Paducah, who is just nine years old. He was held to the grand jury for housebreaking. Evil influences caused him to commit the act, and the pardon was urged by many good citizens.

Contest Cost $15,000.

The Goebel-Taylor and Beckham-Marshall Contest Boards have finished their work. The total cost was about $15,000, which is much less than was expected. The Republican witness claims amount to $9,400, and the Democratic witness claims amount to $1,700. This expense of over $11,000 will have to be paid by Messrs. Taylor and Marshall. The State's part of the costs is $2,900.

FILED THE LOCKS.

But Jailer Prevented Prisoners From Making Their Escape.

Will Morrison, formerly of Pembroke, who killed young Coffman, of Slaughter'sville, at Springfield a few weeks ago, was prevented from escaping from the Nashville jail Tuesday night by the timely discovery by the jailer that two locks on a window grating had been filed. Morrison's trial was continued at Springfield until the June term and he had been taken back to Nashville for safe keeping. He, and a man named O'Connor, who is under sentence of fourteen years for murder, were in the same cell.

DIED SUNDAY.

After Long Illness Mrs. Wilson Departs This Life.

Mrs. Eliza Wilson, wife of Capt. Robert A. Wilson, of the Oak Grove neighborhood, but over the Tennessee line, died Sunday, after a long illness. She was a member of the Baptist church, and had taken a prominent part in all the church work. The funeral took place Monday afternoon, at the family burying ground, after services at the home by her pastor, Rev. C. A. Hall, of Lafayette.

SOFTENING OF BRAIN

Causes Death of a Prominent Sinking Fork Farmer.

Mr. James Owen, a well known farmer of the Sinking Fork neighborhood, died Tuesday night, aged 65 years. He was attacked with the grip about two years ago and never fully recovered. Some time ago softening of the brain set up causing his death as above stated. He leaves a widow and five children, four sons and a daughter.

The burial took place at the Owen burying ground near the Brick church Wednesday.

GRAND LARCENY

Charged Against Several Colored Men Living Near Longview.

For some time farmers of the Longview neighborhood have been missing tobacco from their barns and when an investigation was made a warrant was sworn out against Henry Slaughter, Buster Radford, Wiley Johnson and others, all colored, charging them with grand larceny. Four of the accused were put in jail this week and the grand jury will at once investigate the matter. A straw tick had been opened and used for storing the stolen weed and when a load accumulated it was taken to market and sold.

SHOT IN THE LEG.

Fell Out While Attending a Festival Saturday Night.

During the progress of a colored festival last Saturday night at the home of Wins Tandy's, near Pee Dee, Mack Tandy and another negro, whose name we were unable to learn, became involved in a row, and the result was that Tandy was shot in the leg. The wound is not considered a very dangerous one. The man who did the shooting left the gathering at once and had not been arrested at last accounts.

DENTISTS TOUCHED.

A Smooth Stranger Who Steals Gold Fillings.

Two Local Dentists Robbed to the Extent of $15—Thief Passes On.

Two well-known dentists were robbed Monday of their supply of gold used for filling teeth. On Tuesday Chief Matthews was notified to be on the lookout for a thief headed this way, who made a specialty of robbing dentists. The notice came too late. Investigation showed that the man had come and gone.

Early Monday morning a well dressed young man called at Dr. E. H. Barker's and asked the office boy when the doctor would be in.

Being told that it would not be long he sat down to wait and when the boy left the room the stranger went through the drawers, took gold worth $50 and a $25 plate and was gone when the doctor came in.

He then went to Dr. E. H. Fruit's office and worked the same game, getting $40 worth of gold. As he was leaving he met the office boy and told him he didn't have time to wait for the doctor.

At Hotel Latham the young man registered as T. V. Wilson, St. Louis, and left without paying his bill. He bought a ticket to Clarksville. He shipped some baggage to St. Louis and the authorities there were notified to try to secure it.

ROBBED ROSS'

Seven-Year Sentence Has Been Reduced to Three.

W. W. Ross, who was arrested in this city two years ago by Nashville detectives, assisted by the local police, and later received a seven-year sentence for larceny, has secured a commutation of sentence to three years. Ross robbed a Nashville jeweler of a diamond ring by exchanging packages, and immediately came to this city, where he was arrested as soon as he stepped from the train. He was not convicted for nearly a year and has only served one year in the pen. Ross was from Chicago.

Floored The Elder.

A Mormon elder at a meeting in Jacksonsville, Fla., last night said Southern women had no virtue. He was promptly knocked down by a man who was sitting near the platform, and the meeting broke up in disorder.

LUNATIC MURDERER ESCAPED

But Was Recaptured Near Kelly Few Hours Afterward.

Cicero Barnett, col., who brutally murdered his father with a hatchet at Owensboro a few months ago, escaped from the asylum here Saturday night, but was captured by the attendants Sunday, near Kelly. He was making his way to his old home when taken into custody.

Barnett effected his escape by prizing apart the bars of his window and letting himself down to the ground by means of a rope made of his bed clothing.

The negro, shortly after the murder, was adjudged of unsound mind, and brought to the Asylum.

LOSS OF LIFE.

Almost Certain That 42 Were Killed in the Mine Accident.

Hinton, W. Va., March 7.—It is almost a certainty that forty-two lives were lost in yesterday's explosion at the Red Ash mines.

The cause of the explosion is unknown, but is supposed to have been caused by a miner entering an unused room in the mines with an open lamp. There were forty-two men in the mine at the time of the explosion, and if it had occurred twenty minutes later the loss of life would have reached 150 or more.

DUDLEY McCOMB.

Death of a Young Man Well Known Here.

Mr. C. F. Jarrett and Mr. J. E. McPherson were called to Louisville Wednesday by a telegram announcing the death of their relative, Dudley McComb, son of Mr. John McComb. Frank McComb, another son, died last fall. Dudley had been in poor health for some time. The funeral was held yesterday.

BURNED TO DEATH.

A little son of Mr. William Pike, a farmer living a few miles south of Guthrie, while standing in front of a grate, caught on fire, and was so badly burned that he died a few hours later.

Groom Lived Here as a Boy.

Eld. C. K. Marshall, Jr., of Burkesville, and Miss Bertie Alexander, of Bowling Green, will be married March 21. The groom formerly lived in this city, when his father was pastor of the Christian church here.

SCIENCE IN THE NEWSPAPERS.

A Professor's Views—The Advertising Woman's Editorial Column.

Many of our newspapers draw such income from their advertising columns that the editors are unwilling to print any criticism which would lead to the restriction of this source of gain; thus if a company promoting a scientific bubble should advertise liberally in a leading newspaper, the editors are usually loath to insert an article upon the scheme, for the printing of the criticism might lead to the withdrawal of the advertisement. It is possible that the editors of such daily papers have not overmuch confidence in the judgment of scientific men, for have not the latter often been mistaken? There is one Lardner, who prophesied that electricians could not cross the Atlantic, but we must remember that Lardner was not a scientific man; and he is said that there have been college professors who have denied the possibility of sending messages under the ocean. This I also doubt, for I am a witness in the flesh of the way such stories can arise. Not long since I was invited to speak before a commercial club, and the presiding officer, in introducing me, remarked: "The professor will now address you on the advances in electricity. When I was in college I well remember his describing an electric motor and his remark that it would never become a practical invention." There was, of course, laughter, and the president sat down with the comfortable air of having made a point. The professor pointed out that the preceding year graduated before he became professor in the university, and before the Gramme machine and the electric motor were invented. Nevertheless, he could have believed in the feasibility of the machine, and even as a sophomore took infinite delight in discussing and illustrating mistakes in a volume of Newton's Principia.

THE TRAVATA.

Many of the old-time customs of this charming island have fallen into disuse, even in mountain districts and in villages remote from the sea. One of the most interesting among them is the Travata, a kind of barrier which stops the bride's procession as she is being conducted to her husband's village. The whole of her attendants must succeed in passing this barrier without touching it, or she must pay a tribute.

Early in the morning of the wedding day a crowd of relatives and friends assemble in the market-place of the bride's village; the youths armed, their guns loaded, pistols charged, and belts well furnished with ammunition. They arrive by all the mountain paths, most of them on horse-back, and all dressed in their Sunday best. The bridegroom is led forward by his father, he enters the village, receives his bride, and leads her off; but at the end of the village there is a triumphal arch, and under it the passage is obstructed by a belt of ribbons stretched from one side to the other. When the bride reaches the arch one of the elders of the village stands on the other side of the ribbon barrier and delivers a speech. "Why do you leave us?" he says to the bride. "Were you not happy with us? Had you not your father to protect you, your mother to love you, your brothers to defend you, fertile fields in which to feed your flocks, as well as a healthy habitation for the winter season, and a holy church for the feast days? Again, young woman, why will you leave us?"

The bride, leaning on the barrier, insists, and gives her reasons; then places a small purse in the orator's hand. This contains an offering for the church and for the necessities of the village.

The ribbon is then detached, the bride passes, and at the same time all the young people of the wedding party start off, spurring on their horses in the effort to be the first to reach the bridegroom's village, in which will be the residence of the bride. The first to arrive has the right to take the keys of the house, present them to the bride, and do the honors of the wedding feast.

During this time the procession slowly advances. At the entrance to the village is another arch and another barrier. Another orator also appears. He first of all addresses the armed youths, asks who they are and whence they come, whether as friends or enemies, and demands the usual tribute. One of them answers that they come as friends, and as proof of their friendship escort a bride, whose beauty will delight the village, and whose affection will gladden the heart and home of one of the bravest among them. The orator then turns to the bride, and demands what she brings to the village in whose interests she intends to partake, and what is the family whose tenderness she expects to share.

The bride responds, not without emotion, speaks of her affection, of her duties, of the friends she has, and of those she hopes to have, and joins the orator in the wish that her coming may be a blessing to herself and to the community. A second time the purse is given, a second time the barrier is lowered. The procession enters the village, and proceeds to the house, where the winner of the keys is waiting to present them; the bride is at home, and the festivities commence.—Household Words.

THE BRITISH MUSEUM.

How That Famous Institution Has Grown—A Brief History.

The British museum was established a half century before the library of congress, and had as a foundation three considerable collections already formed, says Herbert Putnam in the Atlantic—that of Sir Robert Cotton, given to the nation by William III. 53 years before; the Harleyan, also in the custody of the nation, and the collection of Sir Hans Sloane, purchased in 1753 at a cost of £20,000. Within four years there was added the old Royal library, founded by Henry VII., the gift of George II. In 1759 the museum was opened with 80,000 volumes of printed books and pamphlets, among them material—chronicles, chartularies, original rolls and charts and other manuscripts—of inestimable importance to the student of English history. For the 140 years succeeding it has, from time to time, received other great special collections, which kings and noblemen and other wealthy private collectors have freely turned over to it as gifts to the nation; the Royal library of George III., the gift (in 1823) of George IV., 70,000 volumes, whose cost had been $650,000; the Grenville collection, 20,000 volumes, upon which the donor had expended nearly $300,000; and innumerable smaller or less costly accumulations—the Edwards, Birch, Onslow, Banks, Cracherode, Egerton, Arundel. The total value of gifts to the museum in all departments, during the 12 years from 1829 to 1841 alone, was estimated at $2,000,000. To expand great sums on books, manuscripts, gems, marbles, ceramics; to be known as a collector defying competition in the chosen field; and at the same of reputation to turn over the exquisite whole to the use of the nation—appears to have become a proud and fat of the British collector.

The museum began immediately, and for 140 years has continued unimpaired to receive the benefit of accessions from the copyright law of Great Britain. Its regular appropriations for the purchase of books, already £1,000 a year in the last year of the century, when values were trivial, became in 1845 £10,000 per year, and for the last 44 years have averaged at least that sum yearly. In addition it has had numerous special grants for the purchase of notable collections thrown suddenly upon the market—the grant, for instance, of £15,000 for the purchase, in 1878, of the Stowe manuscripts.

A DEVONSHIRE WITNESS.

Lined by the Lawyers on a Technicality of Grammar.

The difficulty of discriminating between the first and third persons has been most aptly illustrated by the late Lord Iddesleigh, who used to be fond of telling Devonshire stories. One of his favorite ones was of a Devonshire farmer who was a witness in a horse-stealing case. "Tell us what you know about this case," said the prosecuting counsel. "Well, zur," was the reply, "I zeed the prisoner and I zed to be, zood about the oss, and he zed he didn't know not about the oss." "No, no," the counsel said, "he didn't say he knew nothing about the horse, he didn't speak to you in the third person." "Beg your pardon, zur," said the witness, "there wasn't no third person present, only him and me." "You don't understand what I mean," was the counsel's petulant reply. "He spoke to you in the first person." "You're wrong again," said the witness. "I was the fust pussen as spoke to be." At this point the judge intervened and put the question himself. "You saw the prisoner and you said: 'How about that horse?' and the prisoner answered: 'I know nothing about the horse.'" "I beg your pardon, my lord," said the witness. "He didn't mention your lordship's name at all."—Westminster Gazette.

Youngest Officer in the World.

Without doubt the youngest officer in the world is the son of the Turkish consul general in Taurus, Persia. He is only two and a half years old. A short time ago the wife of the Turkish plenipotentiary obtained an audience with the crown princess of Persia and, as the custom of the country, brought along her youngest son. The princess and her spouse busied themselves with the little boy, and the prince took such an interest in him that he made him an officer in the Persian army, and himself fastened the insignia of the rank on the boy's breast.—Golden Days.

DR. GOLDSTEIN,

After Three Years Absence.

Will Return To Our City,

March 12th, For a Few Days.

It is my specialty to fit glasses in such a manner that they relieve the eye strain perfectly, fitting the eye with spectacles that you can wear with ease and comfort, thus preserving the eye. In examining the eye only the latest and most improved methods and instruments are used. Physicians are especially invited to call and investigate my methods of correcting errors of refraction. Many cases of head-ache, neuralgia, nervous irritability, insomnia, vertigo, nervous prostration and the weakness of children are often due to defective vision caused by an abnormal curvature of the cornea or crystaline lens, or to an irregularity of the refracting media of the eye, and are relieved at once upon the application of the proper glasses. Ninety per cent of the people over 40 years of age need glasses, and fifty per cent of the ninety need them for distance.

Glasses are not always given to improve eyesight, but to relieve undue strains; in short to assist nature. Thousands of eyes are ruined yearly. One percent of the ten have neither eyes aches and one of twenty a squint; hence the necessity of testing each separately. Special attention is given to any eye irregularity that may exist between the refractive media of the eye. Optical science has made rapid advances within the last few years; the corrected pattern of spectacles has become the most perfect. The optician who thoroughly understands his business teaches fully that to adjust glasses for his patients he is as exacting with a most delicate and precise instrument, where the slightest error may result seriously, while if he does his work well, he not only gives comfort and ease to his patients, but in many instances, restores the sight.

Specials are should be seen in selecting the first pair of spectacles, nor should be attempted without the aid of a regular optician. It is most important that the lenses should be accurately centered and of the best quality, and the frame so adjusted that the weight does not press upon the nose, and the eyes are not strained by the weight of the spectacles.

Fitting children with spectacles a specialty.

Examine and test your child's eyes!

Difficult cases solicited.

All questions in regard to the eyes cheerfully answered.

OFFICE 118 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

—FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1900—

Owensboro Republicans have sent Taylor $500 as a present for this wife.

Buller lost 1,859 men in his final efforts to relieve Ladysmith and nearly 7,000 soldiers from first to last.

Mr. Murray Hubbard, of Larue county, has been elected Secretary of the Railroad Commission, succeeding Sam Brown, Republican.

The Chinn School Book bill has passed the Senate and unless something happens it will get through the House before adjournment next week.

According to British reports, the Boers are in full retreat before the advance of Roberts, but at every stop Boers send in a fresh list of casualties.

The Railroad Commission has fixed the valuation of railroad property in Louisville for municipal taxation at $2,755,119, the taxes being $38,189.55.

Gov. Beckham signed the Reward Bill Wednesday and the Commission to expend the $100,000, or so much of it as may be necessary, was organized the same day.

Georgia Republicans in State Convention have endorsed Bayonet Bill Bradley for Vice President. It is not stated whether or not there are any woodchucks left in Georgia.

Gen. W. Drake, the famous mud-bait detective, and James Ford who was with him, were killed by a ball fired in Powell county, by Will St. John and others, Tuesday night.

Mrs. Lawton, widow of the General who fell a victim to Asiatic expansion, has been presented with a purse of $98,432.07 and this will be supplemented by a pension of $30 a month.

"The Balance-Sheet of a Small Maryland Peach Farm" is presented in the Review of Reviews for March by Mr. Worth B. Strottemyer, who shows that peach-growing in Maryland may be made an exceedingly profitable industry.

After all of the talk about defeating the McChord railroad bill in the House, it went through Wednesday with only two Democrats—Klair and Armstrong—voting against it, although several others favored amendments offered. The final vote was 56 to 43, with 600, Democrat, not voting. The bill has already passed the Senate.

South Trimble has been one of the finest speakers who has ever preceded over the Kentucky House. He is not only able and alert, but is full of life and firm under the most trying circumstances and has been able to do so with courage and wisdom. He is one of the bright young men in the present Legislature who will be heard from hereafter.

A conference report on the Finance Bill was agreed to in the Senate by a vote of 45 to 25. Little else was shown in the measure, and not four speeches were made, these being concluded fifteen minutes before the hour set for taking the yeas. It is so clearly evident that the gold standard measure is so fastened upon the country by the republicans, that public interest has been transferred to the President's attempt to persecute the poor Mexicans with the same kind of tactics that caused King George to lose his American colonies some years ago.

It is now agreed by all that the law requires an election for Governor to be held this fall, if the seating of the Democrats holds good in the Legislature will bring the question at once to the front, as the convention must be held in June, unless two state conventions are to be held. There will be less than ninety days left for the campaign.

Col. Jack Chinn, Gov. Goebel's life-long friend, who was with him when he was shot and called for him with the love of a brother and a reckless disregard of his own safety, has sued a Frankfort woman, Mrs. Kate Banta, for saying she saw him shoot Gov. Goebel from behind. He claims $25,000 damages and will also bring suit for $100,000 against the New York World and other papers that published the libel.

Congressman Dead.

Congressman Alfred C. Harner died at his home in Philadelphia Tuesday night. He was serving his fourteenth term in Congress.

What to Do Until the Doctor Arrives.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) druggist called at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends and will have a constant demand for it from that part of the country. For sale by R. C. Hardwick, Druggist.

Senator Triplett is all right after he gets started. There is the true ring about his resolution in the Senate, providing for an appropriation of $100,000 to organize and equip a force of state guards to recover the munitions of war taken from the State Arsenal and distributed by Taylor among the mountain bandits. Why not appropriate another dollar and send a policeman to arrest Taylor himself?

Beware of Quackery For Catarrh That Contains Mercury

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. FOUND A GOLD MIND.

IT WAS IN HIS POULTRY

YARD.

Man in Iowa Uses a Compound that Makes His Hens Lay Double the Usual Number Summer and Winter. Secret of His Success.

People in the neighborhood of Creston, Iowa, are amazed at the number of eggs that this man drives to market with. When asked what was the cause of his hens being so prolific, he stated it was all in a certain compound he was using, that kept his hens in good condition and furnished them with the proper stimulus to egg production. American Poultry Mixture is the name of it, and is made by American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Every man in the poultry business is interested in the health of his hens and their laying capacity. In the eggs lie his profits. This mixture is guaranteed to increase the production of eggs 100 per cent. or money refunded. It will do more than three times as much as the same amount of any other compound. It is concentrated in form and the result of years of practical experience in the poultry business. There is absolutely no doubt as to what it does, and you are invited to try it at the expense of the company. Send $1.00 for a sample package and if it doesn't do the work you get your money back. This is fair and is made to induce practical poultrymen to give it a trial. It is also a sure preventive of such diseases as the terrible cholera and roup which create such havoc in all parts of the country. It is made directly on the grower and grazier and is a thoroughly scientific preparation.

The manufacturers guarantee every package or refund your money if your druggist doesn't sell American Poultry Mixture, he's behind the age. In that case order direct from American Manufacturing Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition, breeds vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. The child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting. Depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant condition is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and pleasant action of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a free sample bottle by mail from all about it. Include many thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Women, Remember This Fact

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are communicating with a woman—a woman whose experience in treating woman's ills is greater than that of any living person—male or female. A woman can talk freely to a woman when it is revolving to relate her private troubles to a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they should have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examination of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman, whose knowledge from actual experience is unequalled.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to freely communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass.

All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only.

This is a positive fact—not a mere statement. It is a terrible fact by the mayor and postmaster of Lynn and others whose letters, all in a little book, Mrs. Pinkham has in her possession.

Write for a copy, it is free. Thus has been established the eternal connection between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken and has induced more than 100,000 sufferers to write her for advice during the last few months.

Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will and her advice has relieved thousands. Here are some of the cases we refer to:

Mrs. Pinkham Helps Two Women Through Change of Life and Cures Another of Sterility. Read Their Letters.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I feel that it is owing to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I am alive today. It has taken me out of a sick bed where I had lain for six weeks with the most terrible pain in my back. My trouble was change of life, had frequent hemorrhages. My medicine cured the life right away and I am now able to do all my work and backache is unknown. I am forty-three years of age and am enjoying good health."—MRS. ANNE POSTER, Casco, Me., Oregon.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—When I first wrote to you I was in a very bad condition. I was passing through the change of life, and the doctors said I had cancer and liver trouble. I had suffered for nine years. Doctors failed to do me any good. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my health has improved very much. I will gladly recommend your medicine to others and am sure that it will prove as great a blessing to them as it has to me."—MRS. GEO. H. JUNE, 901 De Kalb Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I was a married woman and had a child. I had been married three years and could not become a mother. So wrote to you to find out the reason. After following your kind advice and taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I have the mother of a beautiful baby boy, the joy of my home. He is a fat, healthy baby, thanks to your medicine."—MRS. MINNIE FINKLE, Roscos, N. Y.

Two More Women Who Acknowledge the Help They Have Received from Mrs. Pinkham.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—The doctor says I have congestion of the womb, and cannot help me. There is aching in the right side of abdomen, back and back. If you can do me any good, please write."—MRS. NINA CHASE, Fulton, N. Y., December 12, 1897.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I followed your instructions, and now I want every woman suffering from female trouble to know how good your advice and medicine is. The doctor advised an operation. I could not bear to think of that, so followed your advice. I got better right off. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and feel like a new woman. Your Sanative Wash also took your Liver Pills, and am cured."—MRS. NINA CHASE, Fulton, N. Y., December 12, 1897.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—Have been suffering for over a year and had three doctors at the time of menstruation I suffered terrible pains in back and ovaries. I have headache nearly every day and feel like a new woman. The doctor said my womb was out of place. Would be so glad if you could help me."—MRS. ANNE VOSS, Sac City, Iowa, August 1, 1898.

"Please accept my sincere thanks for the good your advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I did everything you told me to do, and used only three bottles, and feel like a new woman."—MRS. ANNE VOSS, Sac City, Iowa, March 23, 1899.

WHERE WE RESTORE THE BLIND And cure nearly all diseases of the Eyes and restore impaired vision Without any Painful Operation

THE "X RAYS" DO IT

OUR LETTERS OF CREDIT.

Gentlemen: I had become so blind from paralysis of the optic nerves that I could no longer transact my business without your glasses, and could no longer read nor write without them. Under your patient treatment and with the aid of your "X Rays" Glasses I am fully restored again. No operation of any kind were performed upon me.

Yours respectfully, J. L. MANSFIELD.

Of Mansfield & Jeffries, Stock Brokers at Bourbon Stockyards.

Gentlemen: I brought my wife to your institute on Monday last. She is 71 years old, has been paralyzed for 8 years and stone blind over 5 years. In two treatments, less than 24 hours, you restored her sight. I am again able to read and write. Her case was considered by others hopeless on account of her feeble health and a advanced age.

Respectfully, JOHN KAUFMAN, Beuchels, Ky.

Gentlemen: Having been a sufferer from what is popularly known as granulated eyelids for the past twenty years and having undergone treatment at the hands of Louisville's most popular oculist, without benefit, it is a pleasure to me to say that under your "X Rays" treatments I have steadily improved from the very first application until the present (less than 4 weeks), and my eyes do not now cause me any trouble and so far as I can tell, I am well, and I hope permanently so. No painful operation was performed on me.

Besides the efficiency of your "X Rays" treatment, I don't mind but just and proper to speak of the fairness and uprightness of your dealings with me financially and otherwise.

Yours respectfully, O. E. Deane & Son, Eminence, Ky.

Gentlemen: I applied as your institute for relief from blindness of over four years' duration, on one day, and receiving two "X Rays" treatments was made to see and distinguish objects the next—within less than 24 hours from the time of my first treatment. On the sixth day I was given permission to return home. I am confident I shall see permanently. I can not speak too highly of either your skill or of your faithful and fair treatment, financially as otherwise.

Yours respectfully, E. C. NELSON, O. E. Nelson & Co., Barr Manufacturers, Frankfort, Ky.

Gentlemen: I was under the charge of Louisville's most popular oculist for 6 months and BLIND from what was termed RETINITIS PIGMENTOSA (usually regarded as incurable disease). I am told; at that time informed me that I had exhausted all resources and could do nothing for me. I then was under the charge of the oldest and most distinguished oculist in the city for a little over a year; after which time I remained the same as in the beginning—BLIND. In giving up my eyes as hopeless and helpless his parting words were: "John, I am sorry I can't do anything for you; go home and pray that some one may discover a way to help you." That was about 3 years ago. I followed his injunction to pray, and I did pray, and I prayed in faith. Hearing of the wonderful work of your "X Rays" Treatment I put myself in your charge on Dec. 18, 1897. I was at that time compelled to find my way along the streets with a cane as my other eyes were blind—frequently ran into people and into the fences and stepped into the puddles in the walks. Today, after two months of your "X Rays" Treatments at the hands of your Medical Director, I can walk the streets as good as any one without any assistance, even that of a cane; can see the trees and fences it seems to me as good as I ever could, and people walking like a square away. I expect to go back to my work in the lumber business within the next 30 days, my improvement, God willing, continuing under your charge.

Yours respectfully, JOHN BLAKE, 717 12th St., Louisville, Ky.

The Population of Hawaii a Badly Mixed Multitude

Thousands of the Orientals in the Islands
Know Nothing of Sanitary Laws

THROUGH the Olympian games held at Paris this summer, and there is every reason to believe that the commission superintending the Paris universal exhibition will successfully carry out the scheduled programme, many American athletes will participate. Collegians, both undergraduates and graduates, are not forgotten the olive wreaths that the American representatives earned for their pains in the Stadium several years ago. The glamour of visiting the spot where once the ancient Grecian athletes contended, to see the dust of the road over which the Marathon runners fled and the cold of the occasion so much importance from a historical point of view, appealed greatly to the man of muscle who competed with the colors of the United States universities on their bodies. If Paris were to offer but a disk of iron for a triumph in a 100-meter race there would be found many collegians who would make the trip, undergo the "rigors" of training for, say five weeks, and pay their own expenses to contest in the athletic events.

Disk Grant.
FOUR AMERICAN ATHLETES WHO WILL PROBABLY COMPETE IN PARIS.

But at this early date it cannot be said that a single university has actually planned to send representatives to Paris. Reports recently sent out from Princeton and Pennsylvania indicated that the faculty had decided to send teams, but there was one point left open for future consideration—the question whether the school should be represented wholly by student athletes or whether graduates who had made records on the path and in the field events would be eligible. One thing is regarded as certain, if Pennsy and the Tigers decide to put graduates on the team, other universities will follow suit.

Strictly speaking, the plan is perfectly legitimate and it should not destroy the amateurism of the team. It will be found that England and the continent will do this and amateurs are closely watched over there. Many at the universities discussed the Paris games, but few had the remotest idea of what they would be, except in a general way it was thought that they would be patterned after the intercollegiate meets. Of course it is a foregone conclusion that there will be sports for the professionals as well as for the amateurs. To get the programme as it has been arranged, I wrote to Paris and received the information that the commission superintending had set aside July 1, 3 and 5 for the professionals and that July 1 the world's championships would be contested at 100 meters, 400 meters, 1,500 meters, 110 meters, hurdle race, long jump, high jump, putting the weight and 5,000 meters steeplechase. Several hundred dollars in cash will be given for the prizes, July 3 there will be a six hours' race with $425 in prizes. The last date for the profits will be marked by handicap performances, in field events, and track races from 100 meters up to 5,000 meters.

For the amateurs the committee has prepared a list of events almost as long as one of these new bridges over the Seine. The best men of the world's championships would be contested at 100 meters, 400 meters, 1,500 meters, 110 meters, hurdle race, long jump, high jump, putting the weight and 5,000 meters steeplechase. Several hundred dollars in cash will be given for the prizes, July 3 there will be a six hours' race with $425 in prizes. The last date for the profits will be marked by handicap performances, in field events, and track races from 100 meters up to 5,000 meters.

That this remarkable runner from Milwaukee, who is regarded as quite the most phenomenal athlete the United States has produced, would hold his own in the hurdles and eventually take the final, is not doubted by followers of sport. He can jump, too, as is well known by his remarkable record performances. The Irish broad jumper, Newburn and O'Connor, would find in him a man worthy of their generalship. Tom Fisher, of Yale; John Flanagan, the gigantic hammer thrower; Boston man, Yale; Dick Grant, of Princeton; Meyer Prinstein, of Quinn; of Harvard; Jarvis, of Princeton; Alex Grant, of Pennsy; Maxey Long, of Columbia; J. T. T. of Harvard, and many others suggest point winners may be found in the list of American athletes who will make the trip to Paris.

If the Parisians do but half of what they promise for the success of the athletic adjunct of the exhibition, there will be plenty to talk about next summer.

The Four D's.

Charles Spurgeon once said that there were three great enemies man—"dirt, debt and the devil." He might have added one more d and included dyspepsia. The evil results of this disease could hardly be exaggerated. Its effects are felt in mind and body, and are as far reaching as the effects of "dirt, debt and the devil." The good effects of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are most marked in aggravated and chronic cases of dyspepsia. It enables the stomach glands to secrete the necessary quantity of digestive fluids, and this at once removes that craving or gnawing sensation so common to certain forms of indigestion. The good effect regulates the stomach, invigorates the torpid liver and gives the blood making glands keen assimilative power. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures ninety-eight per cent. of those who use it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are superior all other laxative medicines when the bowels are obstructed.

A Pathetic Incident.

One of those peculiarly pathetic incidents that border closely upon the dramatic occurred at the Louisville and Indianapolis Optical Company's Eye Institute in this city yesterday, which is described by an eye-witness in the following lines: "One of those good old German grandmothers, who had passed her three score and ten, and whose added years had been crowned with the sweetest disposition than only afflictions sometimes give, had just the day before applied for relief from total blindness of over five years' duration; and although paralyzed for the past eight years and by all others regarded as hopelessly blind, an attempt was to be made to restore her vision painlessly at this second visit. Accompanying her was her son, a six-foot, great, sturdy type of the flaxen, curly-haired, open faced and honest headed German, whose tenderness, love and sympathy for his aged mother reached sublimity itself—along with his wife and little son, the prototype of his father. The grandmother, having had the "X Rays" applied to her eyes, was now ready for the final test to make her see. The eagerness and earnestness with which she—Joke—for that was her son's name—watched every motion and every indication that might occur of suffering, was almost painful in its intensity for the minute or two he was compelled to observe in suspense, the progress of events.

"After a brief period with the eyelids closed and her pale face free from all trace of suffering, she was raised from her reclining position and commanded to slowly—slowly, open her eyes. In the meantime her son had knelt at her feet, her withered hand enclasped in his great rough palms, with her little grandson standing by her side. In a moment or so her free hand left its place, trembling moved forward until it rested on her forehead, and—"O, Jake, I see you!" she exclaimed, while the big tears trickled down his swarthy cheek and fell upon the hand he held in his: "and this"—with another movement of her hand, which now rested on his head of her grandson—"is little Jakey, what was playing tricks on me ven I could not see to catch him. O, you young rascal. I can see to catch you now." Meantime big Jake, who had risen to his feet, smiling, through his tears, exclaimed: "Ach Got! Mutter I was so happy to give you back your eyesight again; you gave mine first to me!" —Louisville Dispatch.
